

Largest Dance Of Season for Miss Cameron

Twenty Dinners Precede Brilliant Affair Given at the Ritz - Carlton by Mrs. Belmont Tiffany

Miss Coppel Introduced
Parents Entertain at the Colony Club; Luncheon
for Miss Peggy Stout

Mrs. Belmont Tiffany gave the largest dance of the season last night at the Ritz-Carlton for Miss Mary Cameron, the debutante daughter of Duncan Cameron and granddaughter of the late Sir Roderick Cameron, of this city, and Clifton Berley, Staten Island, and also granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Turnure, of this city and Lenox. She is a niece of Mrs. Judah Howe Sears, who came on from Washington for the affair. The guests numbered more than six hundred, and they included the debutantes of the season, some of the older girls

"A NEW TOLSTOI" THE WORLD'S ILLUSION

By J. Wassermann
"Before such a work of art comment seems indecent, at best inadequate. I recall no novel of such ambitious intent since 'Jean-Christophe,' and beside Wassermann, Roland appears as a mere critical lecturer."—Llewellyn Jones in Chicago Evening Post.
Just ready, 2 vols. $5.00
Harcourt, Brace & Howe 11 W. 47th St., N.Y.

Christmas Cards and Calendars

THE RIGHT GIFT FOR ANY LOVER OF DOGS
is one of the fine stories by ALBERT PAYSON THERUNE

BRUCE
which many readers think better than LAD
the finest dog story published in many years. If not on sale in your bookstore ($2.00 each) they can be had from
E. P. Dutton & Co., 681 5th Ave., N. Y.

THINK OF BOOKS & BUY OF DUTTON'S

BRADFORD'S
History of the Plymouth Settlement
The history of the experiences of the Pilgrims in England and Holland, their voyage on the Mayflower, etc., one of the most venerated and precious MSS. on earth.
In this book HAROLD PAGET reads it in modern English, so that it is now accessible to all. $3.50.
If not on sale in your bookstore, it can be had from
E. P. DUTTON & CO., 681 5th Ave., N. Y.

FOR CHRISTMAS GIVE A NOVEL
by MERRICK HIS Conrad in Quest of His Youth or the later
House of Lynch are certain to be enjoyed. They are on sale in any bookstore, or if not, can be had from
E. P. DUTTON & CO., 681 5th Ave., N. Y.

BLASCO IBANEZ' novel
The Enemies
of Women
by the author of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse." $2.15. If not in your local bookstore, it can be had from
E. P. DUTTON & CO., 681 5th Ave., N. Y.

THE ONE QUESTION when intelligent people meet:
"Have YOU read
CAIUS GRACCHUS
By Odín Gregory?"
Everywhere. Boni & Liveright, N. Y.

and members of the younger married set, and also the younger men of society.

The dance was preceded by about twenty dinners, the guests in most numbering about thirty. Among the hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. James W. Gerard, Mr. and Mrs. William Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. William Adams Delano, Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Ed. Mrs. Archibald Russell Peabody, Mr. and Mrs. Otto B. Kahn, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Burrall Hoffman, Mr.
Harry Payne Whitney, Mr. and Mrs.
Charles Astor Bristed and Mrs. Pennington Satterthwaite.

The guests, after their arrival at the Ritz, were received by Mrs. Belmont and the debutante at the entrance to the ballroom. There was general dancing throughout the evening and a supper was served shortly after midnight.
Mrs. Satterthwaite's dinner was for Miss Eleanor E. R. Peabody, daughter of Mrs. Archibald Russell Peabody, who is in mourning. It took place at the Colony Club, and afterward the guests were taken to the Apollo Theater and later to Mrs.
Tiffany's dance. In Mrs. Satterthwaite's dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Greenville Temple, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. R.
Peabody, Miss Katherine Post, Miss
Eleanor King, Miss Margaret Warren, Miss Helen Trevor, Miss Katherine and Miss Hester Emmet, Miss Harriet Pratt, Miss Juliet Longfellow, Miss Betty Thompson, Miss Katherine Morris, Alfred Morris, Robert Wood, William P. Vainwright, Ralph Ingersoll, R. McAllister Lloyd, Waldron P. Belknap Jr., Arthur Franke, E. Temple Emmet Jr. and Alan Merritt.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Coppel gave a dinner last night at the Colony Club to introduce their daughter, Miss Susan Bowers Coppel. It was preceded by dinners given by Mr. and Mrs. Coppel and by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Watien, at their home, 46 East Eighty-seventh Street, for Miss Catherine Watien, and by Warren Bynner Nash, for his daughter, Miss Constance Nash, at his home, 410 Park Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Coppel's dinner took place at their home, 123 East Fifty-sixth Street. Their guests, thirty-five in number, included Miss Elizabeth Lee Dodge, Miss Barbara F. Hooker, Miss Clara F. Workum, Miss Margaret
Phelps, Miss Sarnia Marquand, Miss Phyllis Wood, Miss Frances Isham, Miss Odette Fier, Miss Helena and Miss Gertrude Ogden, Miss Eliza Bishish, Miss Dorothy H. Clemens, Miss Helen Coppel, George Purdy Hall, William R. McAlpin, John Holmes, James L. Lowell, John Thomas, Francis Smith, Arthur Titus, Archibald Sator, Mervin
D. Wood, John Lewis, Amy Mc-Kim, William Maddox, John McKernon, Murray McComas, Lea S. Luquer, Dudey H. Mills, John T. Mills Jr., Lawrence Seymour, Donald W. Lamb and Joseph Croll.

The guests at the dance numbered about three hundred. Supper was served at midnight.

Mrs. Edwin Martin Stout, of 117 West Fifty-eighth Street, gave a luncheon yesterday in the Pall Mall room of the Ritz-Carlton for her de-butante daughter, Miss Peggy Stout.
The guests included Mrs. Archibald
Wright, Miss Isabella Wood, Miss Mary
Davis Landstreet, Miss Charlotte Demorest, Miss Clara F. Workum, Miss Gertrude Ogden, Miss Eliza Bishish, Miss Katherine E. Morris, Miss Isabel
McMillin, Miss Carolyn
W. Ferriday, Miss Charlotte Demorest, Miss Gertrude Hughes, Miss Gertrude
Deane, Miss Eliza Bishish, Miss Mary Luke, Miss Constance Nash, Miss Dorothy Clemens, Miss Genevieve Cawthorn, Miss Natalie Hanna, Miss
Allen Plannery, Miss Grace Kietlerich, Miss Edith Hagee and Miss Katherine Hager.

Mrs. Stout will give a dance later in the season for her daughter.

Mrs. Ferdinand H. Cook, of 249 West End Avenue, announced an engagement for her daughter, Miss Beatrice Valerie Cook, to Lester Darling Egbert, son of Professor and Mrs. James C. Egbert, of Columbia University. Mr. Egbert is a graduate of Columbia University, and is a member of the Zeta Psi Fraternity. During the war he served in France as a first lieutenant in the 224 Aero Squadron. No date has been set for the wedding.

The marriage of Miss Agnes de Selding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Shrewsbury de Selding, to William Leicester Van Leer, of Philadelphia, takes place this afternoon in St.
James' Protestant Episcopal Church, Madison Avenue and Seventy-first Street. The ceremony will be followed by a reception in the ballroom of the Hotel Gotham.

Mrs. Henry Mason Day, of 70 East Seventy-seventh Street, gave a dance yesterday evening at the Hotel McAlpin.

VIENNA CHILDREN'S
BENEFIT SALE
Prints and Etchings from $5 up
At HANFSTAENGL'S
153 West 57th Street
Opposite Carnegie Hall

Choice Sets for Christmas Through the purchase of several private libraries we have to offer great bargains in many fine and handsome editions of standard authors in fine bindings. Many of the sets are new and suitable for Christmas gifts, and are offered at from 50% to 75% below the published prices. Included are the following authors:

Browning, Dickens, Thackeray, Balzac, de Maupassant, Boccaccio, George Eliot, Jules Verne, Byron, Arabian Nights, Carroll, Milton, Scott, Reynolds, Kingsley, Lord Beaconsfield, Richardson, Thos. Paine, Maspero, Montaigne, Goethe and Schiller, Wm. Morris, Carlyle, Bulwer, de Musset, Strickland, Italian Novelists, Anglo-Saxon Classics, Stockton, Mark Twain, Ruskin, Parkman, Shakespeare, Longfellow, Muhlbaeh, Greek and Latin Classics, Irving, La Fontaine, de Foe, Brontë, Cooper, Hugo, Lincoln, George Sand, Macaulay, Buckle, Lytton, etc., etc.
Also the latest edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica, the New International Encyclopedia in very fine bindings.

Also many of the above named sets are bound in genuine levant, full pressed leather and full morocco. The general condition, editions and bindings of these sets can best be appreciated when seen.

THOMS & ERON, Inc., Bookellers
34 Barclay Street, N. Y. Tel. Cortlandt 8062-8063
One Night up

Miss Mary Cameron

DAVID
SANDFORD
PHOTO

She was introduced to society last night at the largest dance of the season, given by her aunt, Mrs. Belmont Tiffany, at the Ritz-Carlton. She is a daughter of Duncan Cameron.

last night for her sister and the bride party.

Another wedding today will be that of Miss Rhoda Anderson Higgins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard N.
Higgins, of 470 Park Avenue, to Edward Willard Warren, at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the Brick Presbyterian Church.
Mr. and Mrs. Higgins gave a dinner last night at the Ritz-Carlton for their daughter and her fiancé.

The third of the series of five dances was given by the Y. M. C. A. at the Hotel Robbia room of the Van-dell.

The ladies' auxiliary committee includes Mrs. Henry Clews, Mrs. Vincent Astor, Mrs. Ward Cushing, Mrs.
Charles Day, Gibson, Mrs. Frank Gray
Griswold, Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt
24, Mrs. Ernest Iselin, Mrs. Whitney Warren, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney and Mrs. Henry Rogers Winthrop.

Business Boom Predicted
At Advertising Luncheon
The American Association of Advertising Agencies held its first winter luncheon at the Hotel McAlpin yesterday noon. The speakers were Guy Eaton and E. J. Cattell, City Statistician of Philadelphia. Mr. Emerson talked on "The Bank, a Public Utility." Both speakers predicted a new business boom for America in the spring, when the country, with its Presidential campaign behind it, will have settled down to four more years of political quiet.

Carved Ivory Pieces Are Sold at Fourth Session
The fourth session of the sale of the Henry J. Heinz collection at the American Art Galleries yesterday afternoon amounted to a total of $5,881. This makes a total for the sale so far of $30,115.50. The final session will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Sales yesterday included:

Chinese lacquer box, irregular oval; to T. M. H. for $240.
Carved ivory group, "The Flagellation," to Mr. H. for $110.
Carved ivory group, "Beau and Belle,"
to J. Peters for $100.
Carved ivory triptych; to Dr. A. Kahanovics for $175.
Carved ivory tankard, German renaissance style; to Olcott & Co. for $110.
Carved ivory basket, "The Death of Booth," to Sam Schepps for $120.
Two ivory figures, to Sam Schepps for $165.
Carved ivory tusk; to Dr. Kahanovics for $210.
Carved ivory tusk; to Sam Schepps for $140.

Colby Due at Rio Monday RIO DE JANEIRO, Dec. 17.—Bainbridge Colby, American Secretary of the United States Consulate here Monday, according to a wireless dispatch received yesterday from the battleship Florida, on which the Secretary is coming to South America.

FOR CHRISTMAS GIVE
LEE WILSON DODD'S
Book of Susan $2.00. If not in your local book store, this book can be had from
E. P. DUTTON & CO., 681 5th Ave., N. Y.

You'll not find a handsomer, nor a more stimulating gift than one or both of these volumes by the late
THEODORE ROOSEVELT
American Ideals
with an Introduction by Hermann Hagedorn Stories from The Winning of the West with an Introduction by Lawrence F. Abbott Both volumes are Special Definitive Editions, printed in large type from entirely new plates, beautifully and distinctively bound. The "Ideals" contains 19 Portraits in Photogravure of Roosevelt from youth on, and "Winning of the West" 23 Photogravure Illustrations.
Uniform octavo, sold separately at $7.50 per volume.
At ALL BOOKSELLERS PUTNAM'S WEST FORTY-FIFTH ST., N. Y.
$2 everywhere. Boni & Liveright, N. Y.

Abe Levy, Noted
Lawyer, Friend
Of Poor, Dies

Defended Nan Patterson,
Charles E. Chapin, Miles
McDonnell and Others
Charged With Murder

Operated Upon Twice
Worked Way Through Law
School and to High Position at the New York Bar

Abe Levy, keen-witted, warm-hearted
defender of those charged with crimes,
died Thursday at his home 57 West Seventy-third Street. He had been ill since September 10. Two operations
were performed upon him, one for gall
stones and the other for an affection
of the throat.

He was born in England fifty-nine
years ago and was brought to the United States in infancy by his parents. By his own efforts he won a lofty position in that most exacting
and difficult of careers, the practice
of criminal law. There will be mourning in high places and in lowly at the news of his death, for Abe Levy's
friends sat on the bench and were arraigned at the bar.

Working his way through New York University Law School, Mr. Levy took
the practical part of the criminal law
soon as he was admitted to the bar.
The ordeal of the young and impec-unious attorney who chooses that branch of the law in this city is perilous and many are befuddled.

Began in Police Court
Doggily upright, resolutely cheerful, Abe Levy plodded through the slough of police court practice and
made friends among the unfortunates
he aided there who did him more than one good turn later. It was in the police courts, which have provided a
downfall of many struggling young
attorneys, that Mr. Levy laid the basis
of the practice that brought him fame
and fortune.

Through the underworld the word
went out that young Abe Levy was
square, ready to help the man who was
down on his luck and as sharp as any man in his first case. His importance was that of "Frenchie,"
"Jack the Ripper" killer of 1890.
"Frenchie" was convicted and sentenced
downfall of many struggling young
attorneys, that Mr. Levy laid the basis
of the practice that brought him fame
and fortune.

When Nan Patterson was indicted,
charged with the murder of Caesar
Young, Abe Levy was her counsel. Mr.
Levy's defense of Patterson, who was
the police justice who was impeached;
for Jeremiah Levy, the 1st Ward politician, against whom charges were brought as a result of the Lexow investigation. Miles McDonnell, a gambler, who was accused of murder;
William J. Koerner, accused of the murder of a young woman on Sixth Avenue in 1908, and Charles E. Chapin,
who is serving twenty years for the murder of his wife.

Associated With Son
A catalogue of the cases in which Abe Levy prepared would almost constitute an index for a history of dramatic crimes in Manhattan, and it would be most interesting to know Abe Levy had had the wit of it with
a hand unhampered by his allegiance to the code of ethics of his profession.

For several years Mr. Levy had been associated in his practice with his son, Newman Levy. Their office was at 55
Liberty Street. His wife, three children and eight brothers and sisters
were associated with him.

Funeral services will be held at 10
a. m. to-morrow at Temple Rodolph Sholem, Sixty-third Street and Lexington Avenue.

Horatio W. Seymour,
Editorial Writer, Dies
Member of the World Staff
Succumbs at His Home,
Aged Sixty-six

Horatio W. Seymour, editorial writer
on the staff of the World, died from
angina pectoris yesterday at his home, 10 West End Avenue, at the age of sixty-six. He was a distant relative of the former Governor
of this state, for whom he was named.
He was born in Cayuga County, N. Y.,
in 1854, but moved to Racine, Wis.,
with his family while still a boy. He learned the printing trade there and
began his career as a newspaper man
from Racine. He went to Milwaukee,
where he became city editor and later
telegraph editor of The Milwaukee
News.

Wilbur F. Storey, of The Chicago
Times, then the Democratic organ of the Middle West, noticed Mr. Seymour's
brilliant work, and in 1875 took Mr.
Seymour to Chicago as night editor of the Chicago Times. His headlines in that newspaper are regarded as the
forerunners of the headlines of metropolitan journalism to-day.

Leaving the Chicago Times, Mr. Seymour became editor of the Chicago
Herald, and it was there, during Grover Cleveland's second campaign, that his
editorial work attracted attention
throughout the country. A series of them was published under the title
"Editorials That Won."

Another series which he wrote a short time later as editor and publisher of The Chicago Chronicle and was published as "Government & Co., Limited." Joseph Pulitzer was attracted by the work of Mr. Seymour
and the Chicago Chronicle and offered
him a position on the editorial staff of
The World.

In 1908 Mr. Seymour accepted the invitation, and since then, with the exception of one year in St. Louis as editorial director of The St. Louis Republic, had been on the staff of The World. He married Miss Annie E.
Jones of Racine, in 1876. She survived him. Their daughter, Mrs. C.
C. Grove and Mrs. Rex Jones of Chicago, and Mrs. Joseph Albert Jones,
who lived with her parents.

Abe Levy, Noted
Lawyer, Friend
Of Poor, Dies

Defended Nan Patterson,
Charles E. Chapin, Miles
McDonnell and Others
Charged With Murder

Operated Upon Twice
Worked Way Through Law
School and to High Posi-
tion at the New York Bar

Abe Levy, keen-witted, warm-hearted
defender of those charged with crimes,
died Thursday at his home 57 West Seventy-third Street. He had been
ill since September 10. Two operations
were performed upon him, one for gall
stones and the other for an affection
of the throat.

He was born in England fifty-nine
years ago and was brought to the United States in infancy by his parents. By his own efforts he won a
lofty position in that most exacting
and difficult of careers, the practice
of criminal law. There will be mourn-
ing in high places and in lowly at the
news of his death, for Abe Levy's
friends sat on the bench and were ar-
raigned at the bar.

Working his way through New York
University Law School, Mr. Levy took
the practical part of the criminal law
soon as he was admitted to the bar.
The ordeal of the young and impec-
unious attorney who chooses that
branch of the law in this city is per-
ilous and many are befuddled.

Began in Police Court
Doggily upright, resolutely cheer-
ful, Abe Levy plodded through the
slough of police court practice and
made friends among the unfortunates
he aided there who did him more than
one good turn later. It was in the
police courts, which have provided a
downfall of many struggling young
attorneys, that Mr. Levy laid the basis
of the practice that brought him fame
and fortune.

Through the underworld the word
went out that young Abe Levy was
square, ready to help the man who was
down on his luck and as sharp as
any man in his first case. His importance was that of "Frenchie,"
"Jack the Ripper" killer of 1890.
"Frenchie" was convicted and sentenced
downfall of many struggling young
attorneys, that Mr. Levy laid the basis
of the practice that brought him fame
and fortune.

When Nan Patterson was indicted,
charged with the murder of Caesar
Young, Abe Levy was her counsel. Mr.
Levy's defense of Patterson, who was
the police justice who was impeached;
for Jeremiah Levy, the 1st Ward politician, against whom charges were
brought as a result of the Lexow investigation. Miles McDonnell, a gam-
bler, who was accused of murder;
William J. Koerner, accused of the murder of a young woman on Sixth Avenue in 1908, and Charles E. Chapin,
who is serving twenty years for the
murder of his wife.

Associated With Son
A catalogue of the cases in which
Abe Levy prepared would almost con-
stitute an index for a history of
dramatic crimes in Manhattan, and it
would be most interesting to know
Abe Levy had had the wit of it with
a hand unhampered by his allegiance to the code of ethics of his profession.

For several years Mr. Levy had been
associated in his practice with his son,
Newman Levy. Their office was at 55
Liberty Street. His wife, three children and eight brothers and sisters
were associated with him.

Funeral services will be held at 10
a. m. to-morrow at Temple Rodolph
Sholem, Sixty-third Street and Lexing-
ton Avenue.

Horatio W. Seymour,
Editorial Writer, Dies
Member of the World Staff
Succumbs at His Home,
Aged Sixty-six

Horatio W. Seymour, editorial writer
on the staff of the World, died from
angina pectoris yesterday at his home,
10 West End Avenue, at the age of
sixty-six. He was a distant
relative of the former Governor
of this state, for whom he was named.
He was born in Cayuga County, N. Y.,
in 1854, but moved to Racine, Wis.,
with his family while still a boy. He
learned the printing trade there and
began his career as a newspaper man
from Racine. He went to Milwaukee,
where he became city editor and later
telegraph editor of The Milwaukee
News.

Wilbur F. Storey, of The Chicago
Times, then the Democratic organ of
the Middle West, noticed Mr. Seymour's
brilliant work, and in 1875 took Mr.
Seymour to Chicago as night editor of
the Chicago Times. His headlines in
that newspaper are regarded as the
forerunners of the headlines of metropolitan journalism to-day.

Leaving the Chicago Times, Mr. Sey-
mour became editor of the Chicago
Herald, and it was there, during Grover
Cleveland's second campaign, that his
editorial work attracted attention
throughout the country. A series of
them was published under the title
"Editorials That Won."

Another series which he wrote a
short time later as editor and publisher of The Chicago Chronicle and was
published as "Government & Co., Limited." Joseph Pulitzer was attracted by the work of Mr. Seymour
and the Chicago Chronicle and offered
him a position on the editorial staff of
The World.

In 1908 Mr. Seymour accepted the invitation, and since then, with the exception of one year in St. Louis as
editorial director of The St. Louis Re-
public, had been on the staff of The World. He married Miss Annie E.
Jones of Racine, in 1876. She survived him. Their daughter, Mrs. C.
C. Grove and Mrs. Rex Jones of
Chicago, and Mrs. Joseph Albert Jones,
who lived with her parents.

Abe Levy

Defended Nan Patterson,
Charles E. Chapin, Miles
McDonnell and Others
Charged With Murder

Operated Upon Twice
Worked Way Through Law
School and to High Posi-
tion at the New York Bar

Abe Levy, keen-witted, warm-hearted
defender of those charged with crimes,
died Thursday at his home 57 West Seventy-third Street. He had been
ill since September 10. Two operations
were performed upon him, one for gall
stones and the other for an affection
of the throat.

He was born in England fifty-nine
years ago and was brought to the United States in infancy by his parents. By his own efforts he won a
lofty position in that most exacting
and difficult of careers, the practice
of criminal law. There will be mourn-
ing in high places and in lowly at the
news of his death, for Abe Levy's
friends sat on the bench and were ar-
raigned at the bar.

Working his way through New York
University Law School, Mr. Levy took
the practical part of the criminal law
soon as he was admitted to the bar.
The ordeal of the young and impec-
unious attorney who chooses that
branch of the law in this city is per-
ilous and many are befuddled.

Began in Police Court
Doggily upright, resolutely cheer-
ful, Abe Levy plodded through the
slough of police court practice and
made friends among the unfortunates
he aided there who did him more than
one good turn later. It was in the
police courts, which have provided a
downfall of many struggling young
attorneys, that Mr. Levy laid the basis
of the practice that brought him fame
and fortune.

Through the underworld the word
went out that young Abe Levy was
square, ready to help the man who was
down on his luck and as sharp as
any man in his first case. His importance was that of "Frenchie,"
"Jack the Ripper" killer of 1890.
"Frenchie" was convicted and sentenced
downfall of many struggling young
attorneys, that Mr. Levy laid the basis
of the practice that brought him fame
and fortune.

When Nan Patterson was indicted,
charged with the murder of Caesar
Young, Abe Levy was her counsel. Mr.
Levy's defense of Patterson, who was
the police justice who was impeached;
for Jeremiah Levy, the 1st Ward politician, against whom charges were
brought as a result of the Lexow investigation. Miles McDonnell, a gam-
bler, who was accused of murder;
William J. Koerner, accused of the murder of a young woman on Sixth Avenue in 1908, and Charles E. Chapin,
who is serving twenty years for the
murder of his wife.

Associated With Son
A catalogue of the cases in which
Abe Levy prepared would almost con-
stitute an index for a history of
dramatic crimes in Manhattan, and it
would be most interesting to know
Abe Levy had had the wit of it with
a hand unhampered by his allegiance to the code of ethics of his profession.

For several years Mr. Levy had been
associated in his practice with his son,
Newman Levy. Their office was at 55
Liberty Street. His wife, three children and eight brothers and sisters
were associated with him.

Funeral services will be held at 10
a. m. to-morrow at Temple Rodolph
Sholem, Sixty-third Street and Lexing-
ton Avenue.

Horatio W. Seymour,
Editorial Writer, Dies
Member of the World Staff
Succumbs at His Home,
Aged Sixty-six

Horatio W. Seymour, editorial writer
on the staff of the World, died from
angina pectoris yesterday at his home,
10 West End Avenue, at the age of
sixty-six. He was a distant
relative of the former Governor
of this state, for whom he was named.
He was born in Cayuga County, N. Y.,
in 1854, but moved to Racine, Wis.,
with his family while still a boy. He
learned the printing trade there and
began his career as a newspaper man
from Racine. He went to Milwaukee,
where he became city editor and later
telegraph editor of The Milwaukee
News.

Wilbur F. Storey, of The Chicago
Times, then the Democratic organ of
the Middle West, noticed Mr. Seymour's
brilliant work, and in 1875 took Mr.
Seymour to Chicago as night editor of
the Chicago Times. His headlines in
that newspaper are regarded as the
forerunners of the headlines of metropolitan journalism to-day.

Leaving the Chicago Times, Mr. Sey-
mour became editor of the Chicago
Herald, and it was there, during Grover
Cleveland's second campaign, that his
editorial work attracted attention
throughout the country. A series of
them was published under the title
"Editorials That Won."

Another series which he wrote a
short time later as editor and publisher of The Chicago Chronicle and was
published as "Government & Co., Limited." Joseph Pulitzer was attracted by the work of Mr. Seymour
and the Chicago Chronicle and offered
him a position on the editorial staff of
The World.

In 1908 Mr. Seymour accepted the invitation, and since then, with the exception of one year in St. Louis as
editorial director of The St. Louis Re-
public, had been on the staff of The World. He married Miss Annie E.
Jones of Racine, in 1876. She survived him. Their daughter, Mrs. C.
C. Grove and Mrs. Rex Jones of
Chicago, and Mrs. Joseph Albert Jones,
who lived with her parents.

Call Columbus $200
A Complete Funeral Service
in an atmosphere of refinement at a cost no more.
FRANK E. CAMPBELL
"THE FUNERAL CHURCH" Lc.
(Not a religious organization) Broadway at 66th St.

U. S. Population Put
At 105,708,771 by Certified Count

Figures Reported to Congress Exceed Early Statistics
by 25,663; Territories
Add 12,148,738 to Total

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The population of the United States on January 1, 1920, as enumerated at the Fourteenth Census, was 105,708,771, as announced to-day by the Census Bureau for certification to Congress as the basis for reapportionment of the members of the House of Representatives from the States and Territories.
The population with outlying possessions is 117,567,509.